ESSENTIAL QUESTION: What do I need to know to be able to read and sing music?
QUESTIONS: What distinguishes notes from each other?	NOTES: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> 'o = whole note (4 beats in 4 time) d = half note (2 beats in 4 time) d = quarter note (1 beat " ") ♩ = eighth note (half of a beat " ")
How can I remember the lines' on the treble clef?
If I know the lines, how can I figure out the spaces?
SUMMARY: To be able to read and sing music, I need to know notes and pitches. Each note looks different and is held for a different length. The lines on the treble clef can be remembered by "Every good boy does fine." The spaces are the letters that go in between the lines.
